I learned firsthand about the safety features and the ability of the Victory Commander I.

I was in a tight turn and as the rear tire hit a slick spot on the concrete the front tire came off the ground due to an elevation change. The motor landed on the engine and saddle bag guards and started scraping on the ground. Due to the rear tire never losing traction, I was able to save the motor and bring it back up safely and proceed on. Also due to the footboards not folding up, my feet were safe and no broken ankles or legs. All of this happened with no damage to the motorcycle or me.

This is a testament to the safety of the motorcycle and its ability to keep the rider safe and in control even when circumstances would put other motors on their sides.
